Northeast Laser & Electropolish Completes Major Facility Expansion

2/1/11

Northeast Laser & Electropolish, a Monroe, CT based company, is pleased to announce the completion of a 7,500 square foot expansion of it's manufacturing facility in Monroe, CT.

David Hornak, Manager of Quality and Engineering for the organization, issued the following statement:

"The rapid growth of our core business, in conjunction with the success of our laser tube cutting division, has made this expansion absolutely necessary in order to provide the level of service that is expected of Northeast Laser. We are now able to add more equipment, while reorganizing some of our manufacturing areas into leaner, more efficient cells. Our goal is to have the capacity necessary to meet any customer's quality and delivery requirements, no matter how challenging they may be."

Northeast Laser & Electropolish provides laser marking, laser engraving, laser welding, laser cutting, electropolishing and passivation services to a wide range of companies throughout the United States and abroad. The company is well known for quick turnaround, high quality and the ability to take on both high and low volume projects, whether technically routine or challenging in nature.
